As good as it sounds

Budget is often the biggest limiting factor for contractors and specifiers working on commercial projects, but with the TacFast flooring installation system, cost concerns can be a thing of the past.

Featuring a unique interlocking disc and plate system that sits above the subfloor and a hook and loop fastening system that rapidly attaches the floorcovering, TacFast acts as a leveller and often eliminates the need for expensive and extensive subfloor preparation. What's more, this innovative system does not require adhesives with lengthy drying times, saving both time and money.

The TacFast system also acts as a DPM, eradicating any expensive maintenance costs potentially caused by damp. The essential ingredient of TacFast, the polypropylene LocPlate plates work as a water barrier to prevent any moisture migrating through the subfloor from affecting the floorcovering. In fact, any moisture will condense between the concrete surface of the subfloor and the LocPlate layer. www.tacfast.com
