Chop and change with TacFast

Having made a huge splash across the pond and already making ripples here in the UK, TacFast Systems International's mechanical fix system for flooring is set to get even more manufacturers on board as it paves the way for multi-floor commercial locations.

As Jonathan Stone, chief commercial officer of TacFast Systems International, says: "The TacFast system is the quick and simple choice for the whole spectrum of contract installations, and it is particularly suited to businesses that change flooring regularly. The unique TacFast interlocking disc and plate system allows floor tiles and planks to be removed and replaced without the need for time consuming and messy adhesives, giving end users the freedom to chop and change floorcoverings to suit their business needs."

TacFast consists of a unique LocPlate interlocking disc and plate system that sits above the subfloor and a hook and loop fastening system that rapidly attaches the floorcovering to the LocPlate surface. This allows for greater flexibility and easier removal than flooring adhesives, making TacFast very practical for businesses that require fast flooring changes. www.tacfast.com
